

AJ BOYES

BIO

AJ Boyes is the pseudonym for Alison Johnson, a New Zealand author born in 1974 in Auckland where she is currently living.

She has lived in Sydney, Canberra, The Blue Mountains and England and loves to travel. An avid reader, she is a teacher and librarian who has been writing stories, poetry and novels since she was a teenager. Her favourite authors include Edward Rutherfurd, Jane Austen, LM Montgomery, Janet Evanovich and Boyd Morrison, just to name a few.

She writes poems, short stories, plays, and novels in genres of dystopian, Sci-Fi and family dramas. Like any good writer, she is inspired by places, people and events around her and believes in the triumph of the human spirit and heart against all the odds.

You can read her works on her website www.ajboyes.co.nz You can tweet her @ajboyes1 and email her at aj_boyes@yahoo.com.au.